PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS
HIGHLAND SPRINGS HIGH SCHOOL
HIGHLAND SPRINGS, VIRGINIA

"The elevator to success is not running, take the stairs."

FOREWORD

What was our purpose in writing this book?
So that in the future we might look
Into the mem'ries of the Class,
Mem'ries of each Highland lad and lass.
We wanted this book as our special treasure,
To bring back in years to come each little pleasure
Shared by the Highlanders all through the years—
All of our joys and all of our tears.
For us, tho' we all go our separate ways,
'Twill always bring back our happy school days.

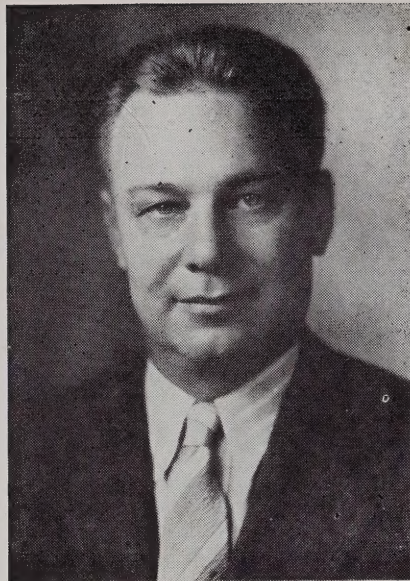

She was a friend whose heart was good,
Who worked with children and understood.

Hers was a smile we all loved to see;
Hers was the hand that held the key.

Hers was a soul that ever shall live;
To you, Mrs. Bonnet, this book we give.
With love,

THE SENIORS.

CLASS HISTORY

Follow, follow, follow the gleam. . . . How well I remember a bright, sunny day in September, 1940, when children with faces shiny from soap came from all directions by every mode of travel. The first day of school and my first day as a high school student! We were sent into the auditorium and as I look back over the years I remember we were a motley group. Eagerness and anticipation were written on all our faces as we waited for our names to be called, and curiosity filled our minds as to who our teachers would be. I felt my heart thump like a big bass drum in my chest. At last I was embarking—embarking on a most exciting and glorious adventure.

Our names were called, dividing us among six freshmen teachers, and many of us were separated from our buddies. I made new friends this year, and although a good many of them are not graduating with us, I shall never forget them. After having dreamed of the day when I would be changing classes, I was very disappointed to learn that I had to go five years before I could finish high school. But here I was and proud of the fact (though a little in awe of the upper classmen). We didn't organize as a class this year, but we were in constant contact with our fellow freshmen through our work. Toward the end of school we presented a Fiesta. It was a great deal of fun. I shall never forget the Dance of the Inca Indians worshipping the Rain God. Then, too, it was that year that the one act play, "The Cross Stitch Heart," was taken to Charlottesville and one of our freshmen, Betty Owen, had a part in it.

While I was scurrying around as a Freshman, some of the present Senior Class were Sophomores, and they, too, like us, failed to organize that year.

And then June—oh, Happy Day. Just think, I was a gay young Sophomore. But when September came, those of us who began their third year also had the "Five Year Plan" and instead of being Juniors were just Intermediates. We organized this year with Mr. White as our sponsor. Our president, as did so many of our fellow students, left us to go to John Marshall because of the annexation. Since our aims were not worthy enough, we were soon disbanded. At the same time the Intermediates were having their headaches. They, as we, had "aim trouble"—maybe it was aimless. Anyway, they were disbanded. The Sophomore and Intermediate Classes were well represented in the school operetta, "The Forest Prince," an operetta that, together with Miss Petillo, will long be remembered. In this year—December 7—the second World War came to our doorsteps.

After what seemed an unusually long summer, we came back to school as Intermediates and Juniors. The Juniors organized with Miss Castelvevchi as sponsor, and Rudy Griffith, Ernest Degen, Estelle O'Connell, and Mason Felton as officers. But we, from our previous experience, did not become a class. In February of 1943 the Junior Class gave the Seniors of that year a gala affair—the Junior-Senior Dance. I'm sure it will live long in the hearts of the alumni. "America First" was the Junior-Senior play in which three of our Juniors, Estelle O'Connell, Ernest Degen, and Russell Smith, had roles. Then the school play, "Pride and Prejudice," was given and both the Juniors and Intermediates were represented by Pauline Grinko, Estelle O'Connell, Doris Gammon, Vivian Minson, Jesse Baker, and Dick Powers. The whole school took part in the stamp and bond auction when we had a jeep come from the Air Base. I'm sure a good many of us will never forget our jeep rides, nor the success we made of the auction.

Then . . . the days of days. Seniors all of us! Due to the war conditions, the five year plan was postponed for the duration and we Intermediates were Seniors! Organization was imminent and after a good deal of disagreement in the spring of '43 as to who would be the officers of the Senior Class, we compromised with Rudy Griffith, Peggy Reames, Marjorie Barnett, and Pat Rice. Mrs. Everett and Miss Ward were elected our sponsors.

This, our Senior year, suffered a great loss—Mrs. Bonnet. We missed her more than we ever dreamed we could miss anyone. Still, in our hearts we remembered her, and cherished her teachings and the good things of life which she gave us. However, though we missed her, we welcomed Mr. Brooks, who came to us as our principal, and we have also found in him a friend.

The Junior-Senior play this year was "That Crazy Smith Family"—a definite hit—with three repeat performances. Our class was well represented and might well be proud of its work. The Jolly Juniors gave us a dance, the first Junior-Senior Dance for most of us. I remember the girls, how lovely everyone looked, and can't help but smile when I think of how none too plentiful the boys were. I know when I am a very old person I shall always remember the Junior-Senior Dance—the paper heart, the flowers, confetti, floor show and Air Base Orchestra—we were sorry to come to the end of the most beautiful party ever staged in the gym.

A source of headaches and undeniable pleasure was the Year Book. It was a race to the finish, but we were victorious.

Through school, we've had our good and bad times, we've laughed and cried, yelled and fought for our rights, and now—graduation all too soon. I feel proud and honored to be a Senior of this Class of 1944. Tears fill my eyes when I think of all the friends I'll be leaving—leaving in body but not in memory—gone now into the wide, wide world!

The play went over with a bang. The cast and back stage people really did a swell job and we were very proud of ourselves. On Friday night they played to a full house and the audience laughed so much that at first the cast had difficulty "holding" their lines. We gave three repeat performances, one at school during school hours and one at the USO in Sandston. However, it was the third performance we all enjoyed the most and felt was the most worthwhile (though it brought us not a penny), for we put on our play in the Convalescent Ward at the Air Base Hospital, sans stage, sans lights, sans everything except the most appreciative audience any of us had ever seen.

We know everyone, those who were in it and those who saw it, will never forget "That Crazy Smith Family"—for they were really no crazier than our own families.

This year we have an excellent record. We played seven games of football, and out of this total we won or tied six. We lost one game to Glen Allen by one point.

We had four lettermen back this year. Our boys played outstanding football with clean sportsmanship the entire season.

Baldwin with the help of the whole team scored the greatest number of points.

During the game with Thomas Jefferson, Perry Nelson was injured and was unable to play again. Since the football season two of our best players have left school to go into Service. Richard Powers went into the Army Air Corps and Charles Stitzer is in the Navy.

Our baseball games are scheduled too late to give the results.

This year we have six games planned. Two with Battlefield Park, two with Glen Allen, and two with Varina.

We have an excellent group of boys playing and our hopes are high for our team, and we know they'll come out on top.

We began the basketball season this year with the odds against us. We did not have any lettermen on our team. We had planned games for this year with teams which offered stronger competition than in previous years.

During the season our boys overcame many of the handicaps. Although we had many losses, the boys played outstanding ball. We can proudly boast of clean sportsmanship during the entire season.

We played eighteen games. Out of this total we won six and lost twelve.

Goodman came in first with the highest number of baskets and was followed closely by Baldwin.

After a lapse of two years without having basketball, the girls organized a commendable team. They worked hard and played good, clean ball throughout the entire season. Dawn Cooper was elected captain of the team, and Phyllis Mahon was elected manager. Both girls served well in these positions.

Our schedule was small due to the problem of transportation; however, we did manage a six-game schedule. Our biggest thrill was the game we played with the "WAAC's" at the Air Base. We had never played on such a large court, but found a great advantage in it—after we caught our breath.

Through every game the girls displayed good sportsmanship — and felt strongly—

"That when the great scorer
 Came to write about their names,
 It mattered not whether they won or lost,
 But—how they played the game."

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Seniors of Highland Springs High School, being of sound body and simple mind, do hereby, on this eighth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-four, revoking all former wills legally made by us, devise, will and bequeath:

ARTICLE 1: To the Junior Class, the wish that they will have as perfect a Junior-Senior Dance as that of 1944.

ARTICLE 2: To Mr. Brooks, our appreciation for his help and our best wishes.

ARTICLE 3: To Marilyn Lee, Mary Kemp's privilege of memorizing dates and figures in government class.

ARTICLE 4: To Miss Castelvechi, another Lillian for a secretary.

ARTICLE 5: To the disposal of the next year's Senior Class, Charles Randolph's "wrong" days.

ARTICLE 6: To any deserving Junior, Pauline Grinko's right of being Mrs. Everett's "right-hand man."

ARTICLE 7: A fair-warning to all that it isn't safe to chew gum in the library.

ARTICLE 8: To Mrs. Sessoms, we leave the privilege of not having another fifth year English class.

ARTICLE 9: To Miss Ward, another "large" Latin II class.

ARTICLE 10: To Miss Wright and Miss Flipppo, the privilege of collecting all stray bugs for biology.

ARTICLE 11: To Mrs. Turner, another trigonometry class of Senior geniuses and wits.

ARTICLE 12: To Miss Bingner, topics of conversation to discuss in book-keeping.

ARTICLE 13: To Miss Briel, the privilege of helping her Home Economic classes in making their Easter suits.

ARTICLE 14: To Miss Simpson, all our love and best wishes for a happy future with Bob.

ARTICLE 15: To Miss Koch, some new co-ops who will turn their reports in on time.

ARTICLE 16: To the post war Juniors and Seniors, more men with whom to dance.

ARTICLE 17: To Mrs. Wingfield, our deepest gratitude for letting us have a taste of Shakespeare.

ARTICLE 18: To Mrs. Suddith, the wish that not all of Louis' clothes will smell like the Pacific.

ARTICLE 19: To the next year's Safety Patrol, the privilege of getting their lunch before the rest of us.

ARTICLE 20: To Dramatics classes, we leave plays with families not as crazy as the Smiths.

ARTICLE 21: To the whole school, we leave the hope that all of your times will be as happy and enjoyable as were ours.

Mary, you have been a fine student, and I really don't know what I would have done without you when there were so many reports and "things" to be typed. Good luck on your job and let me hear from you some time.
